

ELECTRONIC IDENTIFICATION: A WEBINAR FOR GOAT PRODUCERS

9 APRIL 2024

Everything you need to know about eID, NLIS transfers, LPA and NVDs

This webinar is designed to help goat producers be prepared for eID by providing an understanding of their requirements around traceability.

Government and industry are working towards a mandatory national traceability system using electronic identification (eID) for sheep and goats by 1 January 2025.

This webinar, delivered by the Sheep & Goat Traceability Task Force and hosted by Integrity Systems Company and the Goat Industry Council of Australia, is designed to help goat producers be prepared.

This webinar is ideal for all goat producers - from dairy to rangeland, regardless of the size of your production system.

The webinar will cover:

- Why eID is important from a traceability perspective
- What NLIS accredited tags can be used and when
- The Livestock Production Assurance program and NVDs
- What you need to do when moving goats on and off your property
- Updates to NVDs for harvested rangeland goats
- A NLIS user demonstration including how to conduct a property-to-property transfer

A goat producer who is already using eID will also join the webinar for a Q&A about their experiences and advice for others.

Sign up today.

All registrants will receive a recording of the webinar and other resources.

Date: Tuesday 9 April 2024 | Time: 7.30pm to 9pm (AEST)

7pm SA & NT | 5.30pm WA

REGISTER NOW AT: <https://bit.ly/3TEibgD>

