

eNVD app:

How to add transporters to a consignment app

You can add transporters to your livestock consignment, allowing them to access and share that eNVD with saleyards, processors, producers and enforcement agencies where required. Transporters can also add other drivers to a consignment, making it easier to maintain traceability across the supply chain.

Important notes:

Transporters require a myMLA registered email address and an eNVD profile to access consignments in the eNVD app and web platforms.

If they do not have a myMLA account, you can enter their details on your device and provide them with a copy via email, SMS or print.

Make sure to Submit consignment to complete the transfer. Once the eNVD is submitted, all receivers using the platform can view a digital copy in their account.

- 1 As you are completing your consignment, tap Enter transporter details.

- 2 Add the transporter's myMLA registered email address. If you know the details including name, vehicle registration number and phone number, complete these details. Otherwise, leave these fields blank.

- 3 If you are the livestock owner and transporting them yourself, complete all the details.

- 4 If the livestock are being moved by more than one transporter, tap Add Transporter to add and enter each transporter's registered email address.

- 5 IMPORTANT! Make sure to tap Save and then Submit to transfer the consignment. Once the eNVD is submitted, all receivers using the platform can view a digital copy in their account.

- 6 The consignment has now been successfully transferred to the transporter.

The transporter can now sign into their eNVD app and enter their details including name, phone number, vehicle registration number, date and time of the livestock movement and sign the declaration before leaving the property.

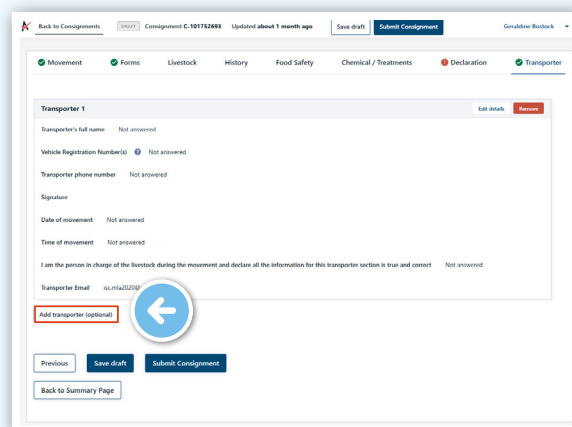

1 After completing the consignment details and the Declaration, click Next to add a transporter.

2 Select Add transporter (optional) and add their registered myMLA email address in the Transporter Email field. Leave the rest of the details blank.

3 If you are the livestock owner and transporting them yourself, complete the details including name, vehicle registration number and phone number.

4 If the livestock are being moved by more than one transporter, tap Add Transporter to add and enter each transporter's registered email address.

5 IMPORTANT! Make sure to Submit Consignment to transfer the consignment. Once the eNVD is submitted, all receivers using the platform can view a digital copy in their account.
