

Stand by what you sell

ON-FARM RECORD KEEPING - NT

Can you stand by what you sell?

Good records and systems are the foundation of the red meat integrity system. If you are a producer accredited through Livestock Production Assurance (LPA), you make a pledge that meat from your farm has been produced safely, ethically and meets biosecurity requirements. It means you stand by what they sell.

When you tick the box on your LPA NVD, you are guaranteeing your on-farm practices meet LPA requirements, and ultimately customer expectations. Your tick must be backed up by accurate farm records – and farm records will be reviewed if your property is audited as part of the LPA program.

Join this webinar for tips and hints on how to keep good records and what on-farm actions you need to be recording as well as what to expect during an LPA audit.

Date: Thursday 17 June 2021 | Time: 7.30pm - 8.30pm (CST)

Can't make it?

We will send you a free copy of the webinar so you can catch up ... all you need to do is register!

The LPA NVD is your declaration and guarantee to buyers.

Make sure every NVD is clear, complete, and correct.
