

Saving your signature for future use

You can now save an electronic signature to your eNVD user profile, enabling you to easily add your signature to livestock consignments created on either the eNVD web-based system or mobile app.

1 Create a new consignment in the eNVD Livestock Consignments web-based system or mobile app.

2 On the Declaration page, click on the Sign Declaration button.

3 Sign inside the box using your mouse or the touchpad on your desktop computer. This doesn't have to be a perfect signature, your best attempt will suffice.

If you are using the eNVD mobile app, use your finger to draw your signature on the device's screen.

4 Tap on clear if you need to redraw the signature.

5 When satisfied with your signature, tap the Save button and make sure the box 'Save the signature for future consignments' is ticked. Your signature will now be saved in your eNVD user profile and will be available on both the app and the web-based desktop version for future consignments.

Note: If you transport your own animals, your saved signature will also be available for you to use to sign the Transporter declaration.

6 Complete the rest of the consignment including the Transporter section.

7 Submit the consignment.
